The Wright Stuff

A Word from Bob Wright

People with cancer have every right to investigate the options that are available to them for healing. As a matter of fact, I truly believe that they must explore opportunities that go well beyond the “standard of care” (chemo, radiation, surgery) that is the only choice through conventional Western medicine. I believe that all of us would agree that having choices is a good thing.

AACI Sponsor Highlight: Life Insurance Buyers, Inc.

It appears that this message is being received more and more today by those who have been recently diagnosed with cancer. While we are delighted about that fact, we are somewhat disturbed by some side-effects of this development. Well intentioned friends, relatives, doctors, and self-described “healers” are forwarding things that desperate patients glom onto without seeking the science and effectiveness behind these “cures.” Most natural supplements and treatments will do you no harm. But, will they actually help – or get in the way of healing? Good question.

One thing is for sure, if you are diagnosed with cancer, half of everyone you know will have something that you absolutely must try to save yourself. The other half will coerce, cajole, and demand that you undergo the only thing that will give you a chance – which they perceive (for some reason unknown to both God and Man) to be your only hope. Sadly, we have yet to find any acceptable reason or proof as to how poison, radiation, and the mutilation of the human body heal cancer. Admittedly, sometimes surgery is absolutely necessary.

If this is you (recently diagnosed – or struggling with cancer for some time and not seeing results), please don’t buy in to this mantra. Seek for yourself – but do it with your eyes wide open, not wide shut.

I know of cancer patients who take in excess of 100-150 pills per day – and some have success with it. More commonly, the costs are high in dollars and lack effectiveness. Many go from one thing to the next; this supplement, that supplement, this treatment, cousin Jimmy’s elixir, Aunt Martha’s salve, Grandma Mary’s concoction. Now, don’t get me wrong, some of these things actually have shown to work for some people – and they may work for you. My point is that I want something that, largely, works for everyone – and so should you. That’s why I urge you to do your homework on this. It is your life that is at stake, not your doctor’s or your uncle’s. If you can’t do it, find someone who will help you.

Others want to design their own protocol by mixing and matching foods, treatments, and protocols that are not proven. While probably none of these, once again, will individually hurt you, will this line-up that you have produced with no real reason for the assembly, actually do what is necessary to accomplish your goal? Perhaps – but often it will not.

This frustrates me and many cancer coaches, natural doctors and healers in that there are no controls, no sound protocol, no proven efficacy. I have talked to many patients who say something like this: “Yah, I’m using this from Bill Henderson’s protocol, this part from Ty Bollinger, this treatment that I saw on the Cancer Tutor’s website (Webster Kehr), and I will do these things that you recommend.” Well, Buddy, you are now on your own. No, this group of experts above – and myself – forward a specific regimen that we would do ourselves (we are not prescribing anything – go to your doctor for that) that we have a very high degree of success with. Yes, you can choose to follow it or not – your choice. Remember, however, that these protocols have been put together in a specific formula for a reason. They work – and, they work for almost everyone, as long as the body has not been too wrecked by allopathic medicine and the exacting plan is followed.

That brings me to another point. Many will generally follow a specific treatment plan but, like McDonald’s, they want to do it their way. Statements like, “well, I had one of those drinks two days ago and drank 4 ounces of that ionized water on Tuesday,” simply does not cut it. In the world of natural medicine (remember “let thy food be thy medicine?”) you can rarely consume too much of a good thing. If I eat one carrot per day, wouldn’t two, or five be better? Is half a glass of an organic green veggie juice as good as 3-4 glasses? Will 3-4 glasses hurt me? You get the picture. We find out all the time and every day that when it comes to natural foods and supplements, generally, more is better and healing comes quicker.

And, here is a statement that some simply have not heard yet. “What we eat is really our chemotherapy – three times a day!” Assuming, of course, that you are eating largely raw, organic food. For example, bromelain, found in pineapples, has proven to be way more effective than the chemotherapy 5-FU. Graviola has shown to kill cancer cells 10,000 times more effectively than the chemo drug Adriamycin. Friends, good food is far more effective at killing cancer and building up and healing the human body than any drug ever created!

Another problem is that of the refusal to let go of the actual things that caused our cancers in the first place and will significantly stifle or sabotage our recovery. No, chocolate cupcakes and Twinkies are not anti-cancer foods. Diet soda actually causes cancer and you must quit it. Smoking marijuana may help to relieve cancer pain – but how does inhaling 100 or more carcinogenic substances help you beat cancer? Yes (I anticipated your question), the oils of marijuana and hemp are good and very anti-cancer.

So, what does it all mean? Simply this: What you put in your body, on your body, what chemicals and toxins you are exposed to, what we breathe – will all have a say in the onset of cancer and its healing. And, something we don’t think about as much – what we fail to do will also play an active part in sickness or wellness (failing to get into the sunlight, still using aluminum coated pots and pans, etc., etc., etc.).

With cancer, you simply cannot make mistakes. Yes, some people have healed with some totally off-the-wall stuff. It happens. I have seen some eat diets that would kill most people over time – yet they did lots of other things (supplements) very effectively – and they survived. I don’t recommend those types of diets, however. Your chances go down exponentially. People that find a protocol that has proven to work for many others, or a clinic that can give you full care with natural protocols that have a positive history and science behind them, these are the ones who heal.

Let me finish with this. I have had both the pleasure and agony of working with cancer patients who followed a suggested protocol (that I would do if I had cancer) and have gotten well or were well on their way to healing. Sadly, now they think they have this cancer thing figured out. Believing that they now have the formula, the magic pill, the golden elixir – the plan that they can always use should the cancer come back, they regress into the life and lifestyle that gave them this sickness in the first place. No worries – right? Wrong. When it comes back (actually, it hadn't totally left in the first place), it comes back with a ferocity that is difficult to address with any treatment or protocol. And, while some may beat it a second time – not many will.

Don't fall into that trap. I just dealt with another one of those last month – and the patient was only 28 years old. He was near death when I first met him, but turned it around with the proper plan. Unfortunately, exactly what I just described above happened. He was buried about a month ago.

Yes, pleasure and agony. We see so many people heal and, yet, we also see so many die. We need way more of the former and far less of the latter. Spread the word.

The Science Behind Protandim

Many of you have heard me speak quite admirably about Bill Henderson. And, why wouldn't I? Unquestionably, Bill is one of the finest and most successful cancer coaches in the world today. He has been the catalyst in bringing thousands of people to healing utilizing a protocol that is steeped in science. When I say "science," I mean the real science that is backed by true studies regarding the factual efficacy of natural substances, therapies, and protocols that actually work to strengthen and heal the human immune system. That, friends, is what cures cancer and most other disease and sickness known to man.

Bill is the author of several books on cancer, an integral member of the AACI/IWARC Advisory Board, and a huge supporter and backer of the supplement called Protandim. Still unknown to many today, Protandim is proven to increase the glutathione within the body by up to 300%. For those of you in the know, glutathione is called the "master antioxidant" and very successfully lives up to this lofty definition. In addition, and of maybe more importance, Protandim activates the S.O.D. (superoxide dismutase) enzyme in us. Each molecule of this enzyme is said to have the capability to neutralize up to a million free radicals per second for thirteen days! Is this important for cancer patients? You bet it is – especially those who have already undergone chemotherapy or radiation treatments.

I like this supplement so much (and I take it) that I wrote about it in the new Third Edition of "Killing Cancer – Not People." Both Bill and I think you are going to like it, too. Please check this out. Go to the link below and read what Bill has to say and look at a synopsis of the sixteenth peer-reviewed study on this truly amazing supplement. Bill's short missive will also show you how to acquire this product and where the proceeds from sales end up. You're gonna like this.

My loyal readers,

I want you to read an article on the latest information on Protandim, which I've talked to you about before. This is the only product that Dr. Carlos Garcia, M.D., my co-author, and I have agreed that every cancer patient (and non-cancer patient) should take every day beyond what we recommend in Chapter 5 of our Cancer-Free (4th Edition) book. Dr. Garcia and I have been taking Protandim every day for about a year and a half. The science behind it is incredibly well documented with 16 peer-reviewed studies on the PubMed.gov website.

First, I'll show you the latest news on Protandim and then I'll give you the specifics about how to order your product today. I'll also give you some information on this great opportunity to help others and make some money in the process. Here's the article with the latest news:

"Protandim the NRF2 Activator Continues to be Scientifically Validated!"

LifeVantage, the Corporation that manufactures Protandim just received its sixth U. S. patent on Protandim, the synergistic activator! The patent was granted for alleviating inflammation and oxidative stress in mammals.

*The sixteenth peer-reviewed study, which is:
The role of NRF2 in the Attenuation of Cardiovascular disease was just published on PubMed.gov the National Institutes of Health* website where all scientifically validated research is published in the U.S.

Protandim has been shown to reduce oxidative stress by an average of 40% in 30 days. No other nutritional or pharmaceutical product can make this claim!

The NrF2 pathway, which Protandim activates, continues to demonstrate and has the ability to signal our cells to provide protection on a cellular level that is unprecedented in nutrition. The evidence is clear that Protandim is an intercellular activator that has the ability to signal cells to maximize the potential of our immune system the way no other supplement has been proven to do.

Protandim activates enzymes that fight inflammation, detoxifies the body, balances the immune system and mobilizes antioxidants. True Science (Protandim in a cream form) protects the body from oxidative stress externally. These two products show clearly that they make human beings feel better, perform better and look better."

Look interesting? It should. There is nothing like this on the market for lowering oxidative stress (free radical damage) -- and helping every chronic degenerative condition. To explore further these two interesting products -- Protandim and True Science, just go to: <http://mylifevantage.com/498050>.

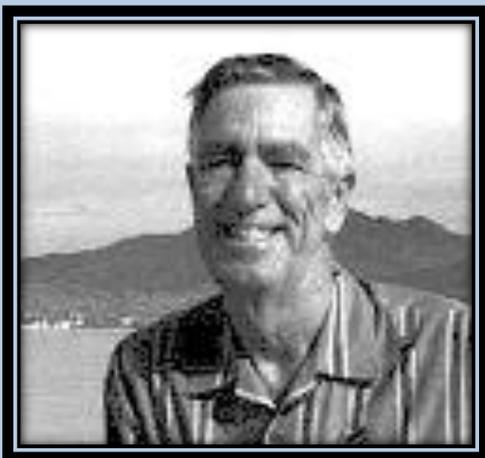

Be sure to sign up as a "Preferred Customer." You'll get a 20% discount. You can cancel the monthly "auto-ship" any time but once you know what we know, you will want to remain on this product for life! It's that powerful! And don't overlook the Canine Health product. It's simply Protandim formulated to attract your pet to get used to eating it regularly and enjoying the benefits.

I am doing this as a distributor to help you folks. But I also am using it to help Bob Wright, author of "Killing Cancer - Not People" and founder of the American Anti-Cancer Institute (AACI). He has currently renamed the AACI as The International Wellness and Research Center. Every penny I earn from your participation as a customer or distributor of the Life Vantage products above goes to Bob Wright's project, which we hope to have completed in the next two years.

If you're interested in becoming a distributor of these wonderful products, helping lots of people in the process and making some money as well, please take a look at this video. It will give you what you need to know about that decision. I will help you make a success of the business, as I've done for distributors under me around the U.S. as well as in Canada, Australia and Nigeria. After you watch this video, if you're interested, just call me at (210) 697-0488 (Central Time) and I'll help you get started: www.abusinessreport.com.

Vaccine Attack

Recently, Dr. Sherri Tenpenny was attacked by UNICEF regarding her stance against vaccines. It seems that the United Nations can't stand it when someone actually does the research and provides the real truth about the poisons that are being injected into our children and the resultant health calamity that follows.

Aren't we sick of this yet? Shouldn't science be based upon skilled investigation and truth? And, when the truth is found, shouldn't it be forwarded to everyone in its original form? Sounds simple, right? Well, as we have seen for decades and decades, "simple" and "truth" really have nothing to do with vaccinations.

Once again, this is about power and money. No conspiracy theory here. Follow the studies and follow the science and the truth is revealed. It appears, however, that this truth is very inconvenient to those that can't believe that anyone – including our governmental agencies – would do anything that would harm our children. Of course, all of us hope that would be true. Sadly, if you have done any studying yourself, you know that it's not.

Just like the mantra that "fluoride is good for children's teeth," "chemotherapy and radiation are the only therapies that work for cancer," "cholesterol causes heart disease," "140 over 90 is high blood pressure," "tap water is just fine for you," etc., etc. (somebody please stop me), this is nothing more than another bald face lie told by the medical establishment.

But, I can't say this nearly as well as Dr. Sherri can. Go to the following YouTube link and get a full dose of the good doctor. She's smart as a whip and knows precisely whence she speaks.

Link: www.youtube.com/watch?v=iy6hdrOvnX8

Now you know more about the real truth (and the misconceptions and deceit) surrounding vaccinations. Continue to study this subject and do some research of your own – for your kid’s sake.

Dosch Testimonial

We may have printed the following testimonial in a previous newsletter so you might have already seen it. But, it's so good that we must continue to share it. Actually, it is one that I included in the new Third Edition of "Killing Cancer – Not People."

Without further ado – welcome to the world of Al and Rosey Dosch of South Dakota.

"I had sheared sheep for twenty years. I developed a lot of joint and muscle pain throughout my entire body. My main concern was my left knee. I had lost the range of motion in it and it would swell up and get huge. If I bumped it the pain would be incredible.

"I started taking Reliv and in 10 days I was sleeping all night. My energy levels increased. In 4-5 months my joint and muscle pain was gone. I got the range of motion back in my knee and the pain went away and most of the swelling was gone. I got by great like that for 2 years. Then, I had a fluke accident and hurt my right knee. I went in for x-rays and they x-rayed both knees. The Dr. said that my right knee would be fine, but the left looked very bad. It looked like cancer. He said I needed to go to the Mayo Clinic and find out what was going on. I went home and started flooding my body with the Reliv products.

"The Mayo Clinic diagnosed me with Stage 4, Large B Cell Lymphoma. It was in my femur bone and in all the soft tissue from my knee to my mid-thigh. The Dr. said he had no medical explanation why I had not lost function and circulation and should have had to have that leg amputated a long time ago. My veins and nerves went through the mass. They had never seen that before.

“I did do 6 rounds of chemo every 3 weeks. It was called R-Chop. I sailed through my treatments. I did not get sick. I ate whatever I wanted. I had good energy and could work every day. My blood counts stayed in the normal ranges. Three months after my last chemo treatment I went elk hunting with my wife and friends in Colorado. I had no problems with altitude sickness and was able to go up and down the mountains with no aches or pain. I got a 6 X 6 bull elk. I am very thankful that I found these products when I did. Today, I have 2 legs and 100% use of both of them. I have been cancer-free for 3 ½ years, and on Reliv for life!”

Thanks, Al. I can't help but wonder if those of you reading this understand what an incredible testimonial this is. It's amazing to comprehend that Al changed nothing else in his life – but added the Reliv products and flooded his body with them. There's that nutrition thing again. It is interesting to note that he survived despite the very caustic R-Chop chemo – not because of it. And, his survival will be chalked-up in medical circles to the wonder and healing power of chemotherapy. Herein lies another grandiose misuse and manipulation of statistics – and total disregard for the truth. Incidentally, Al is 55 years old – and going strong!

And, people wonder why we recommend the Reliv Products. Sheesh!

Medicine “Fesses Up”

It is very encouraging when we see Doctors and other natural healers publishing data that is directly in line with what we are saying and doing. This seems to be happening more and more these days.

A prime example comes from Dr. Bruce West’s Health Alert newsletter. In his March 2014 edition, Dr. West hits the highlights of a recent article that appeared in JAMA (Journal of the American Medical Association). Here is another instance where the AMA is essentially “telling” on itself – yet few seem to pay attention. We must, however. From Dr. West’s Newsletter:

The JAMA article and others provide remarkable insight into the reluctant admissions by medicine about their screening recommendations that have been brainwashed into the public for almost 30 years. Here are some of the highlights.

- 1) Detecting cancers and treating them early does not lead to less late-stage cancer, nor does it prolong life.*
- 2) The term cancer should not even be used for most cancer findings on screenings because it causes hysteria, frightening people into needless, dangerous, and often deadly medical treatments that could be easily delayed or not pursued at all.*
- 3) Even screening biopsies and treating for Barrett’s esophagus, thought to be an early sign of future esophageal cancer, failed to reduce the incidence or mortality of esophageal cancer.*

- 4) Too many atypical cells discovered on screenings are referred to as cancer. Rather, these need to be watched, are rarely a problem, and even if they slowly become a problem, it won't be for 10-20 years in the future.
- 5) The USPSTF (the U.S. Preventive Services Task Force) produces guidelines for screenings that recently triggered near revolt both in the public and in the world of medicine when it said to perform less mammograms and less screenings altogether. Both those doctors who are educated out of the brains they were born with, and the public who routinely gets the bejeezus scared out of them by these doctors, went into full panic. It turns out that the USPSTF was correct. And if their guidelines were followed, there would be no worsening of cancer statistics, there would be dramatically less medical damage and carnage from unnecessary follow-up procedures based on screenings, and the savings to the nation would be several billion dollars (follow the money).
- 6) Unfortunately, since the billions of dollars do not come out of our personal checkbooks (it is generally paid for by Medicare and insurance companies), nobody knows and nobody cares. But in Great Britain and the Netherlands, for example, where they really control their costs, they do not screen as we do because it is not scientifically sound, nor the right way to use their money. The end result is that they have dramatically better cancer statistics in every respect than the U.S.
- 7) Medicare spends as much on breast cancer screenings as it does on treatment.
- 8) We need to develop methods for observation (rather than drugs, cutting, and burning) of lesions that are found on screenings that will not cause problems. These are called low-malignant-potential lesions.

- 9) We need to develop ways to reduce the detection of lesions that won't cause problems but that are routinely medically treated. This should be accomplished by reducing screenings, focusing screenings on the very high-risk folks, and performing less recall, biopsies, and treatments based on screening findings that will not really cause problems.
- 10) And perhaps best of all – medicine needs to study cancer progression through research into ‘controlling the environment in which pre-cancerous and cancerous conditions arise.’ Wow, something besides drugs, surgery, and radiation for cancer?! This tidbit of medical heresy, and all the rest of the information about cancer screenings, comes right out of the pages of Health Alert over the past 25 years.

Thank you, Dr. West. Here is a case where less is really more.

Dr. West is one of the best doctors that I know. Although he is professionally trained as a chiropractor, his in-depth medical education and knowledge of how to truly heal the human body is far superior to most M.D.'s that I know or know of. He is said to have healed far more heart patients than any cardiologist that has ever lived – and I believe it.

Consider subscribing to his monthly newsletter, Health Alert. Each edition is jammed with real life information and healing protocols that are time-tested and proven. A subscription is only $39 for a year and $77 for two years. Folks, it's really worth it. Contact Health Alert at 30 Ryan Court, #100, Monterey, CA 93940 or by phone at 831-372-2103.

Bob's Going on Tour

With the recent release of the Third Edition of “Killing Cancer – Not People,” we have had several requests to host Bob in various communities for speaking engagements and training events.

Some of these events have been scheduled and we are now accepting applications for your organization or community to host Bob. The available dates are filling fast and are on a first come first served basis. Please contact us at info@americanaci.org to reserve a date.

There are some requirements regarding these events – and they are very straightforward, simple and inexpensive. Since Bob's time is in demand, we have had to adjust these a bit to make this work for everyone. Previously, we required that each event host at least 200 people so that we could promote the book and sell about the same number of books. We find that the average purchase is about one book per person – some buy 10 or more, some don't buy any. And, to make it special, Bob signs and personalizes each book. He also stays late to counsel with those having individual needs (some say this is priceless).

So, here is how it works now. The host individual or group must purchase the books in advance – then can sell them and recoup their costs at the event – and thereafter if books are left over. There is no minimum for number of attendees – it could be 20 or 1,000. The group would pay for Bob's flights to and from and for his Hotel while there. In addition, there is a $1,500 speaking fee that goes to the IWARC/AACI – not to Bob.

This is how the numbers stack up:

200 books at $20 each = $4,000

Flights = average @$400

Hotel, 2 nights = average $300

Speaking Fee = $1,500

TOTAL: @$6,200

Of course, the host will recoup the $4,000 by selling the books. Many groups charge a $5 or $10 (some more) attendance fee and can make an additional $1,000 - $2,000 or more. In other words, each event can recoup a major portion or all of its investment.

At a time when many others (with a message that is not as compelling or life-changing as Bob's) are charging $5,000 - $10,000 and beyond, this is a real bargain. We think you will agree.

Please let us know at your earliest convenience if you are interested. Preferred scheduling is at least two months in advance so that you can advertise and market the event – and we can do the same at the IWARC/AACI.

We look forward to hearing from you.
