

The Wright Stuff

A Word From Bob Wright

We have big news! November 14th – 21st we will be holding our first ever on-line Summit featuring some of the world’s best doctors, scientists and researchers. We feel, however, that this one will be a little different than the ones you see being advertised daily in natural health news articles (many of these are very good).

We are calling this eight-day jump into Internet broadcasting the “What Really Works for Health and Healing” Summit. Yes, I know. Long name – but we really needed to call it what it is. There seems to be so many individuals, companies, doctors, and natural health workers out there today telling you what you need to do to stay well or heal when you are not. Some of them have some exceptionally good practical guidelines. Sadly, in many cases, the follow-up has been miserable and people are left hanging with, perhaps, some good ideas, but with no clear direction on how to apply them. Basically, when all the speeches are over with, there seems to be no way to get answers to the many questions that arise from the material presented.

We want to do it differently. First of all, we want to feature eight of the people who are really making a huge difference in health and healing; whether it's cancer, heart disease, diabetes, auto-immune disease, neuro-degenerative disease, etc., we want to show people what really works. And, of course, we want to do this without ever saying that any individual supplement, treatment, therapy or protocol actually heals any of the preceding ailments. Really? Yes, really. We know, beyond any doubt, that sickness and disease are healed by the human immune system that is healed itself and rebooted by many of the things that you will hear about in this Summit. Secondly, and equally important, is that we wanted to be able to follow-up with you and answer any and all questions that you might have regarding the amazing (and mostly new) information that you will be exposed to during these eight days. We will show you how to use this technology, how to acquire it, and why it is important.

No, this is not just about selling stuff. We did not sell anything for the first 11 or so years of our existence. We did not want people to think we were recommending things just to sell them and make money.

What this truly is about, is getting the information into your hands that is really changing the world in terms of health and healing. There are very few things that fall into this category. Many cancer patients already know this as they have tried “almost everything” and spent their life savings trying to find something that works.

Well, we know what we know. And we know it to be true. What you will witness through these eight powerful speakers can really and without question change your life. We have vetted these technologies through scientific research and know they are the “best of the best.”

Starting at 10:00 a.m. Pacific Time, November 14th – for about an hour each day for 8 days – you will be able to see for yourself what these are and how they work. From wearable stem cell technology to genetic/epigenetic supplementation made just for you – to Redox Molecules, ionized water, additional epigenetic discoveries, seed technology (the life is in the seed) and the world's ultimate form of down-to-the-cellular-level detoxification – the missing link in healing; you will see things over these eight days that you have never seen before.

As you can tell, I am excited about this opportunity to present to you what really works for prevention, health and healing. I will be interviewed the first day, then I will speak with leaders of these various new technologies for the final seven days.

You can read more about this in the information at the link below.

COVID-19 TEST? REALLY?

Bob's Note: I have been studying and researching the COVID-19 enigma that has been circling the world for almost 7 months now. I have written in this newsletter about the true science behind the purported virus and the tests being utilized to supposedly diagnose it. You will notice in the words below that someone else has done their research and has discovered what we have known and talked about for some time. Of course, you always get to believe what you choose and we always urge you to look into these things yourselves and discover what is true.

The RT-PCR ‘Covid-19’ test (it’s not) was invented by the American Nobel Prize winner Kary Mullis who said it should NOT be used to diagnose infectious disease – because it is not designed to do that. This is the ‘test’ being used to diagnose ‘the virus’ worldwide!

The test involves a tiny amount of genetic material and takes it through cycles of amplification. With each amplification more of the content of the sample is picked up by the test – genetic material that ultimately everyone has in their bodies if the sample is amplified enough. If you go to page 16 of this NHS document you will see that they are using 45 cycles of amplification which means that large amounts of people will test positive for that genetic material – NOT ‘the virus’ which they have never isolated and purified from other genetic material.

It is a scam beyond words.

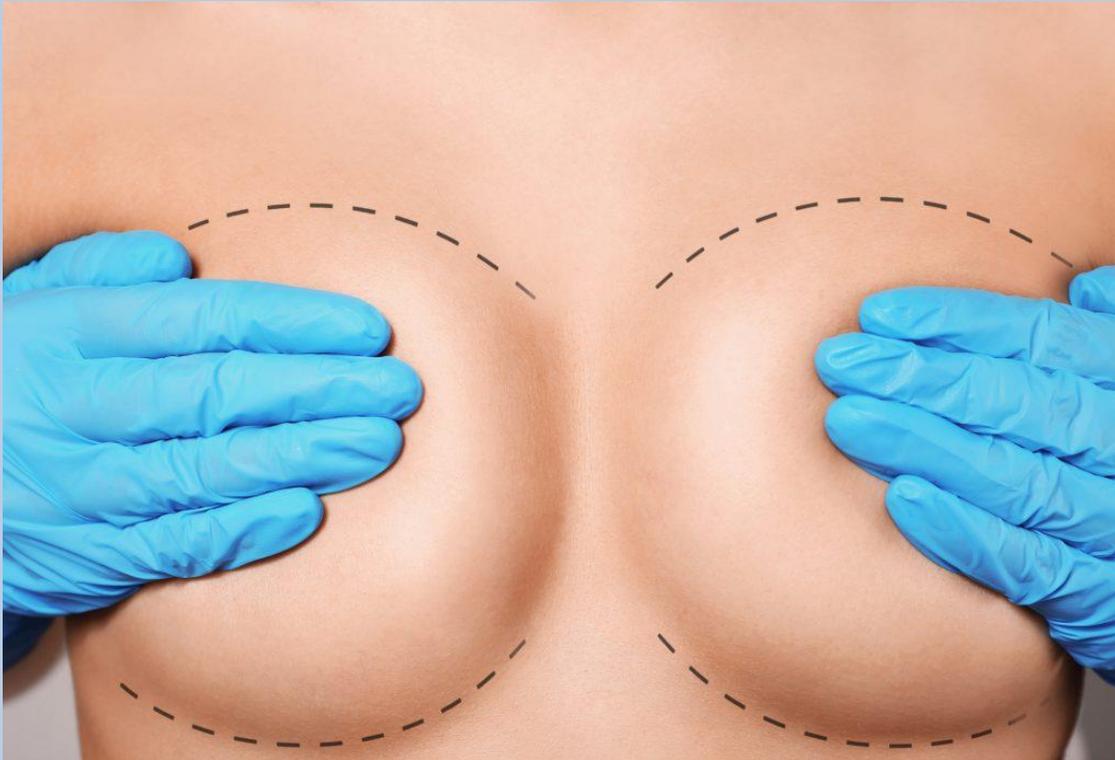

Here’s the SOP (Standard Operating Procedure) PDF for the method they use:

Breast Reconstruction: Get the Facts Before You Decide

Written by: Dr. Véronique Desaulniers

If you have had a mastectomy for breast cancer or are considering one, you may also be considering what to do afterwards. As you explore your options, you owe it to yourself to learn the facts about breast reconstruction surgery as well. This is a very personal decision so take your time in weighing the cost, both emotional and physical. Always make an informed decision when it comes to your body and health.

What Does Reconstructive Surgery with Mastectomy Entail?

A mastectomy is a surgery that removes all tissue from the breast. In conventional medicine, it is done to prevent cancer spread (although this is somewhat of a misnomer since mastectomy does not remove breast cancer stem cells).

Never the less, more women are opting to get mastectomy each year. And in total, over 300,000 American women annually get breast augmentation, either because of mastectomy or for strictly cosmetic reasons.

Reconstructive surgery after mastectomy can be done either at the time of mastectomy (called an “immediate” reconstructive surgery) or “delayed,” which means the surgery will occur at a later date. The materials used to recreate the breast vary and include silicon, saline or the person’s own tissue.

While reconstruction may help a woman feel more like “herself” after Breast Cancer, there are also quite a few risks associated with it, especially concerning the substances used.

Complications with Silicone Implants

Remember that ANY surgery is an invasive procedure that could increase complications from infection.

In 1992, the United States Food and Drug administration announced a moratorium on silicon implants because of their possible link to rheumatic disease and Breast Cancer. However, as of 2013, certain kinds of silicone implants have been re-approved for use in the United States.

Part of why silicone implants are so harmful is because they don’t just contain silicon. In fact, there are dozens of other chemical substances that may be found in some gels, including formaldehyde and acetone. Silicon-caused nervous system disorders, especially neuropathy on the side where the implant is located, can occur when there is a rupture of the implant or leakage of the material. Silicon leakage can lead to inflammation, fibrosis, and “foreign body reaction,” according to a 2007 study published in Hong Kong Medical Journal. Leakage is so common that many experts recommend either removing or replacing the implant every 8 to 10 years.

Silicone can also be carcinogenic. According to the research, silicon leakage can increase your risk of other kinds of cancer, including lung, colon and pancreatic.

“It’s a neurotoxin,” said Dr. Susan Kolb M.D., F.A.C.S., A.B.I.H.M., an Atlanta-based holistic plastic surgeon and author of the book The Naked Truth About Breast Implants: From Harm to Healing, in a recent interview on Mercola.com. Kolb knows firsthand about the dangers of silicone implants. She was once diagnosed with thoracic outlet syndrome as a result of silicone implant leakage. “Many of the chemicals that Dow Corning [maker of silicone implants] identified in the trials ... are carcinogens, and many are neurotoxins. Oddly enough, the plastic surgeons don’t know the list of chemicals that are actually in the gel.”

All is not lost if you are experiencing the negative side effects of silicone implants. “Explantation surgery” can remove implants. In addition, immune system and detox protocols have a good track record for healing side effects once they are removed.

Complications with Saline Implants

Sadly, there are virtually no studies that have critically looked at complications associated with saline implants. According to many experts as well as anecdotal evidence, the problem with saline is not so much with the substance, but what could happen if the valve that is used to fill the implant is damaged through trauma to the chest, like in a car accident or other injury.

If valve malfunction occurs, certain bacteria and mold fungus can get into the implant. There, foreign substances can create biotoxins that can become neurotoxic and even carcinogenic. Symptoms can be similar to those who contract “sick building syndrome” caused by water-damaged buildings.

Another complication of both saline and silicone implants is called “capsular contracture.” This occurs when scar tissue forms around an implant and pulls at it. According to studies conducted at the University of Ontario and others, capsular contracture happens in silicone implants roughly twice as much as it does in saline implants.

Complications with Autologous or “Flap” Reconstruction

Using your own tissue—usually from the belly, buttocks, and/or upper thighs—to reconstruct a breast is called autologous or “flap” reconstruction. Many individuals prefer this kind of reconstruction because the tissue feels most like a regular breast and, according to conventional medicine, it supposedly “lasts a lifetime.”

Complications can arise with flap reconstruction as well, however. According to Cancer Research UK, complications of autologous reconstructive surgery include infection, flap failure, fluid under the surgery wound, hardening, leakage, unequal breasts if weight changes, and abdominal hernia.

Some Final Thoughts

Now that you know some of the risks of breast reconstructive surgery, you can make your own decision about how you want to go forward. Remember that any kind of surgery comes with its own cancer metastasis risks. Most women we have coached who have had reconstructive surgery regret going down that road in the long run. I believe that the the best course is always the most natural one, and that means staying away from any kind of invasive procedure whenever possible.

And, if you are a reconstructive surgery candidate, don't be afraid to consider no reconstruction. I encourage you to read this wonderful article , “Going Flat: Choosing No Reconstruction” posted on BreastCancer.org's website. It encourages you to learn to be comfortable with your body if you choose no reconstruction. “I don't care what they take from you as long as I can see your face,” is a common sentiment from partners of Breast Cancer Conquerors.

Embrace your magnificence and your scars – you are beautiful inside and out.

Knee Sore & Pain

| LifeWaveX39™ Stem Cell Patch

“I want to give you my report on my X39 experience. My knees have been giving me fits after working a 8-10 hr day on the concrete floors.

Normally I walk a mile in the early morning. Each time I have to descend the stairs sideways due to sore knees. Then go to work and get by with some pain till about noon. Then the knees kick in for the rest of the day. Then I need to grab ahold of the railing to get up the stairs and into the apt.

Starting the second day I noticed I could almost walk down the stairs forward rather than sideways. ???? Today (4th day) I went down the stairs full ahead and forward!!!!!!!!!!!!!! If I concentrate and keep my feet in alignment at work there is very small pain throughout the day. . And tonight I walked up the stairs straight.

When I started taking X39 I quit a couple of other pills, so it couldn't point to anything other than the X39. Since it is so few days I will follow this up in a week or so to see if I am still feeling the change.”

Lung Inflammation

| LifeWaveX39™ Stem Cell Patch

“Just over a year ago I thought that at the age of 78 my life was over. I suffered from many health problems that drag me down. But then I found X39!

Very quickly after starting with X39 I recovered my youthful strengths. Now I enjoy my life once again. It is a happy life worth living and where I can still be of service to others. I have always enjoyed being with and helping other people.

The other day I had an examination at the lung specialist the other day. This had been delayed for many months due to the closure in Holland. He said he could see that my lung tissue had improved. My lung size (volume) was measured and improved by 20 %. The oxygen was always 92 or less, this is due to constant inflammation. Now in the morning 97, sometimes 99.

Even my heartbeat was measured and already much better

You cannot imagine how happy this result makes me. Remember that since I started in July 2019, I no longer had to use any prednisone or penicillin. Even my skin has recovered! It was like thin rice paper because of Prednisone.

Thanks to LifeWave, I now have a brand new future full of potential. I have a road to go with my recovery process but I already have a lot more energy. That's why I was able to get back into my chorus. I can sing again without coughing. I am very grateful to LifeWave and all the people who work so hard helping so many others.”

Cell Dividing Condition

/ ASEA® REDOX Cell Signaling Supplement

Karen Murphy ▶ ASEA Healthy Self

10 Jan 2019 · 📷

I wrote about my husband last year. This is his latest updated scan taken today. We are now 2 years and 1 month since diagnosis and 10 months post treatment. In December of 2016 his condition was terminal with a life expectancy of around 12 months from the cell dividing condition to his throat which had by then spread to the lymphatics. He has taken a bottle a day of the signalling molecules since June 2017 and is now thriving. Thank you and God bless the founders of Redux molecules.

Conversation starter · 16 Feb · 📷

Today Peter celebrates his 65th birthday. What a long way he has come from his terminal diagnosis in 2017 with no more than 12 months expected. He is currently taking a half a bottle a day of the molecules and using the Renu gel to the area affected four times a day. No evidence of disease present. Good bless the founders of this amazing product.

“In May of 2010 my husband had a cell dividing condition in his head. After 3 surgeries and follow up radical treatment it recurred twelve months later.

Another 2 surgeries and more radical treatment we thought we were free. But on the 2nd of November 2016 another separate cell dividing condition of the mouth was diagnosed. This was to prove to be way more serious. 2 surgeries were needed and whilst they were being done a major recurrence from 2010 was discovered. Follow up radical treatment was needed again. This failed and then we received the devastating news on the 23rd of March 2017 that surgery was now not an option as the nature of the condition was so vicious and fast that it had spread elsewhere. Our only option was to try a trial drug in the form of immunotherapy to give him at the best 12 months of life.

We now need a miracle. It came in the form of Redox signalling molecules and gel. On the 9th of June 2017 he had his first mouthful of the molecules and has consumed 1 bottle per day and applied the gel constantly to the affected areas. At this point he was in intense pain, unable to eat, losing weight rapidly and contemplating palliative care. Within 3 weeks the pain had settled, he was able to eat and started to regain strength.

Once therapy started his doctors were amazed at how his bloods despite the harmful and expected effects it would have on his liver and kidneys his blood results improved with each visit. Each scan showed the regression of the disease. As fast as it spread it regressed stunning all involved.

On the 20th of March we received our miracle. As we left that day he rang that bell which has the words above it, You can ring this bell when you have conquered it. What a journey. As a family we can now look to a healthy happy future with a husband, dad and grandfather thanks to the wonders and power of Redox signalling molecules.”
