The Wright Stuff

A Word From Bob Wright

Below, you will find the “Word from Bob” that we published exactly six years ago for the June 2015 Newsletter. It is amazing how little has changed and how much has stayed the same. I wrote this after returning from my yearly jaunt to the high mountain lake resort my family goes to every year to fish, sit on the cabin porch and watch the lake and wildlife, surround the campfire and have fish fries, and relax (the aforementioned is all relaxing!). Well, I have just returned again – six years later – and the report is much the same. Please read between the lines in this missive and grab hold of the things that really matter.

As Director and Founder of the American Anti-Cancer Institute and International Wellness & Research Foundation, people often ask me if I really practice what I preach and do the things that I recommend for others. Good question.

Testimonials: LifeWave X39

Well, to my knowledge, I don't have cancer. But, the relevance of that statement is really not – well, relevant. After all, I always emphasize that prevention is the real cure and what prevents – heals; and what heals – prevents. Therefore, if one was really interested in the healing mechanisms for cancer, or any other chronic illness, one would naturally be interested in prevention. You see where I'm going with this.

The short answer, in all its fullness – and, rounded up or down according to your perception – is “yes”, I do walk the walk. I must confess, though, that it hasn't always been that way in my life and I do fall off the wagon now and then. With a serious “dis-ease” like cancer, however, I would be totally on the straight and narrow – no wavering.

I recently was on vacation to a small mountain lake in North Central Washington. My wife and I (and family and friends) sat on the cabin porch overlooking the lake a lot; we fished, hiked, I ran many 4-5 milers through the woods and on country roads; and we largely ate at the wonderful small café at the resort. Of course, whenever any of us “eats out,” we have very little control (except to order or not) over what is on the menu and where its contents come from. I believe most of us decide to “bite the bullet” for these times in our lives and do the best we can (most of the time!). Sometimes when we do fall off of that proverbial wagon, we plunge head first into the abyss and emerge days or weeks later 4-5 pounds heavier, feeling slothful, having a generally poor complexion, and feeling like we never want to eat again. Been there? I thought so.

I didn't eat so well at the lake. I did have some good salads and exercised a lot – which helped. And, because my daily diet has become very good over the years “in my real life,” the results of eating the wrong foods for any period of time (could be one meal) really has an intense effect on me. Simply, my body rebels and turns on me.

I love milkshakes. However, I rarely ever have one. I know beforehand what the results will be. Many people know what lactose intolerance is – some, not so much. Most don't know that we are all, essentially, lactose intolerant after the age of about two. Our bodies just seem to react differently. After that time when our bodies stop producing the enzyme lactase, we succumb to some condition of intolerance for milk products. Some see no change, even though the evidence is in (and overwhelming) that milk is not good for us (See The China Study by T.

Colin Campbell). Some react a lot. Suffice it to say that my body lets me know when I have wronged it.

So, after that brief stint with restaurant food, I am back on the buckboard riding shotgun for whole, organic foods, pure supplements and alkaline, ionized water (Kangen Water). I've got to tell you – I like it a lot better here.

So, at almost 65 years of age, exactly what does my daily life look like and does it have any relationship to the fact that I have rarely been ill in the past 30-40 years? Well, you can guess the answer to the last part of that.

Yes, I shop at my local co-op and eat organically as much as I possibly can. I eat lots of salads with fresh, organic vegetables. I don't drink milk – except for organic almond, coconut, hemp or other nut milks (cashew). I do eat some meat and I believe that those who are healthy can include some meat in their diets (Mediterranean –style diet). The caveat here is that you need to know where your meat comes from (free-range, no antibiotics or hormones), you have to know how to cook it (not well done –don't cook the enzymes out!) and, then, how to eat it (chew a lot, layer your food in your stomach). Some have become angry when they find out I am a hunter – that's their choice and I respect them for it. I know where my meat comes from, what it eats, how to take care of it, and how to eat it. Whether it is venison, fresh sockeye salmon from the Kenai River, Eastern Brook trout from that high mountain lake – I know it is pretty pure and I caught or killed it myself through fair chase. The same is true about any free-range fowl or other animals that we may eat.

I juice veggies and fruits (mostly veggies) and drink them with the Reliv and Purium supplements. I stay away (most of the time) from white flour, white rice, white salt, and white sugar (getting the theme here?). I use full-spectrum Himalayan Salt, eat little sugar of any kind, and try to eat good grains (quinoa, amaranth, brown/red/black rice), sweet potatoes and yams.

I drink no tap, distilled, or reverse osmosis water and only will have bottled water when I am travelling and can find nothing else. I drink alkaline, ionized water (again, Kangen Water). If you haven't heard about this yet, you can find it in Chapter Six of my book. When you consider that one 12-ounce glass of 9.5 pH Kangen Water has more antioxidant capacity than all of the fruits and vegetables one could possibly eat in one day, it is the fastest way in the world to bring an acidic, inflamed body back to alkaline, and hydrates better than any other liquid anywhere, it makes perfect sense.

I use the Reliv (epigenetic) and Purium (totally pure and organic) products almost every day as I believe they are the best nutritional supplements in the world.

As stated earlier, I am still a runner and regularly run 5 miles and walk when I am not running. Being a hunter, I mountain bike 3-4 miles into the wilderness on a closed and gated forest service road in the dark to get to my hunting destination. When successful (most times) I must haul a 200-250 lb. mule deer that whole way back, mostly uphill. So I have been able (by the Grace of God) to remain pretty active. I am also a firm believer in whole body vibration – the scientifically proven benefits are almost unbelievable. When you understand that you can get a full hour gym workout in 10 minutes on a WBV machine, it makes perfect sense. I believe everyone should have one of these – the benefits are so great. The best one (and most affordable for the average person – me) is called the T-Rex Fit and I will gladly show you how to get one. You should want one.

Last, but certainly not least, I detox my body on a regular basis. And, I don't fool around with this. I did not do this in my former life time – years ago. You will be surprised (when you are my age) what comes out of your liver, organs, lymph system, and cells after accumulating there for decades. I really believe that one must do whole body, down to the cellular level, detox to have a true quality of life. If you don't get the heavy metals (we all have them) and other toxins out of your body – they will actually prevent you from healing or staying healthy. Folks, that's just the way it works. But you can fix that with PIOH (precision intestinal oxidative hydrotoning). Chapter 9 in the book shows you how. I have had 35 of these sessions to date.

Hopefully, the foregoing has convinced you that I really am what I appear to be. And, that doesn't make me special, it just gives me a better opportunity to have a better quality of life for whatever time God decides to give me. I know enough to have figured out that it works that way. We have all heard of those who have had poor diets or drank a shot of whiskey a day and smoked cigars and lived to be 100. I think George Burns almost did that. We also know of those who have appeared to have eaten all the right things, drank pure water, and exercised regularly and died at age 45. Somethings just can't be explained. But, we must play the odds. And, the odds say that if we do the right things we will have a longer life and a better quality of life (most important). Who wants to live to be 100 if you are sick and in a wheelchair for the last 40? If I drop over dead tomorrow, at least I will have had that quality I was looking for.

So, that's who I am. I hope you are not disappointed – rather, inspired. I fully understand that I am not better than anyone – nor worse than anyone. I'm just trying to do the best I can with what I have and trying to help others to do the same.

No matter where you are right now in this life, you must know that there is hope. Hope for healing, hope for restoration, hope for living that long healthy, productive life that we all aspire to. That's what I am doing. How about you?

Bob Wright, Director and Founder

Notes on CHEMO / RADIATION / SKIN CANCER

December 2004 issue of Clinical Oncology by Graeme Morgan, Ward, and Barton:

“The overall contribution of curative and adjuvant cytotoxic chemotherapy to 5-year survival in adults was estimated to be 2.3% in Australia and 2.1% in the USA.

I spoke with Dr. Morgan about 4 years ago by email. Asked him if the 2004 report was still relevant today. Reply:

“My paper is still very relevant as the newer and more expensive agents are not the cure for cancer as they only impact on small subgroups of patients, such as node positive cancers or cancer in pre-menopausal women or cancers which have certain biochemical pathways identified on biopsy. I am a retired Radiation Oncologist and was around when chemo was introduced and strongly promoted (by the drug companies) as a cure for cancer. As one of my colleagues has always stated – ‘Chemo is the most costly way NOT to cure cancer.’ So, as per my article, overall chemo only has a benefit in a small minority of patient, and that was so in 2004 and still true today.”

5-year survival by cancer industry – Mark Twain: “FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS, BUT STATISTICS ARE MORE PLIABLE.”

RADIATION – Professor John Cairns from the Harvard University School of Public Health said in 1985 – “The majority of cancers cannot be cured by radiation because the dose of X-rays required to kill all the cancer cells would also kill the patient.”

CHEMO AND RADIATION DO NOT KILL CANCER STEM CELLS.

IMMUNOTHERAPY – Utilizing drugs or biologics to up-regulate or down-regulate the immune system. Rarely works. Side effects can be bad – or fatal.

We use immunotherapy every day via the right foods, supplements, water, etc. Works far better than drug immunotherapy and there are no “side” effects.

OPDIVO for non-small cell lung cancer + Yervoy

Reduced risk of dying by 21% compared to platinum-based chemo. At 17.1 months – half alive with Opdivo and Yervoy compared to half alive at 14.9 months with platinum-based chemotherapy. 2.2 months. Side effects are devastating.

We have yet to see a case of basal cell or squamous cell skin cancer that has not been fully resolved with the use of “Curaderm” BEC-5. It is that simple. Don’t give in to having these things cut out with MOHS surgery continually. Use Curaderm. I did for two basal cell carcinomas on my chest and back. Healed in 30 days. Find it on the Internet or at Walmart.

The Power of Seeds

For those of you who are unknowledgeable about the power of seeds and seed oil, please see the following testimonials from those who have used the “Soul” and “Core” from Rain International and what it has done for them – and their pets. I must say that it is almost unbelievable – except I know that these things happen when you “douse” your body with epigenetic products like these. Purely and simply – the body responds. The Master Mineral

Written by: Dr. Carolyn Dean

If there was one nutrient that everyone should be aware of, magnesium would be it.

Magnesium is a mineral, an electrolyte, and a catalyst used by your body to create the perfect cells. Your body requires magnesium for over 300 enzyme systems that promote thousands of your body's biochemical reactions every day. Magnesium is referred to as a master nutrient because of how important the supplement is on its own, as a co-factor to other nutrients, and as the building block for a variety of cellular processes. It truly is an "essential nutrient."

But magnesium deficiency is still the most overlooked health problems in the western world today.

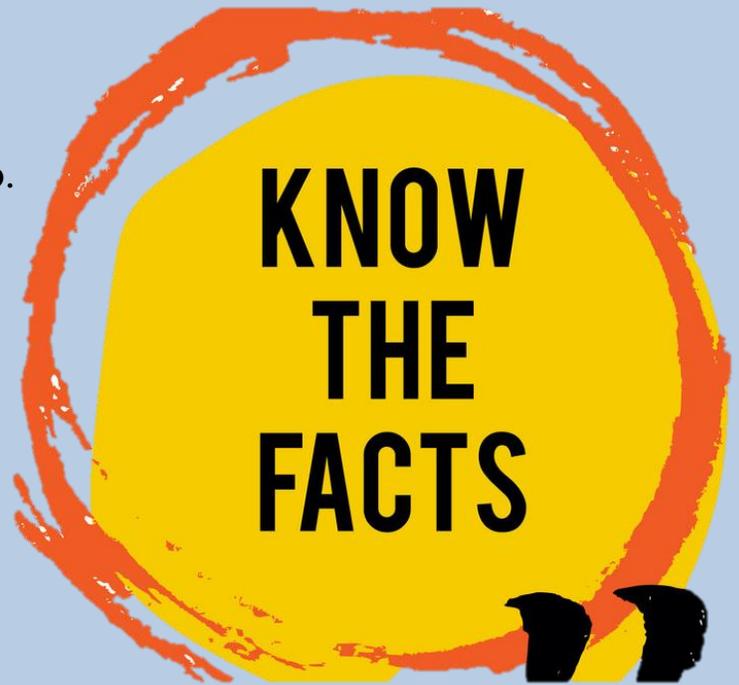

Magnesium Without Equal

I have spent decades researching magnesium and why addressing magnesium deficiency first can make a dramatic difference in the health of so many individuals. The result of this research is the unique, pico-meter supplement ReMag®, The Magnesium Miracle.

Bob's Notes: *Folks, the fact is that almost everyone of us is short of this master mineral at the cellular level – the exact place where we need it to be. Dr. Dean's ReMag and ReMyte (minerals) are 100% absorbable at the cellular level – the only magnesium and mineral products in the world that we know of that are. Don't miss out on this. We have seen so many people with so many different issues that have effectively been resolved through adding these supplements to their diets. I do this every single day – and they help me sleep better as well. Get the 16-ounce bottles of each as they are a better value and will last you a long time. Secrets to “What Really Works for Health and Healing”

Here's the problem. --- We trust our doctors (and pharmaceuticals) to heal us when they really have no ability to do so. Contrary to popular belief (and hope), drugs don't heal people and neither do doctors. Your very own body, in fact, has been endowed by The Creator with an amazing weapon – the human immune system. If functioning properly and treated with adequate nutrition, it has the innate ability to heal virtually anything thrown at it, and that includes cancer. And, no, this is not an essay about nutrition – although it plays the most important role in whether or not you survive all chronic illness, including cancer.

The truth is – natural therapies and treatments work – traditional measures usually do not.

Therefore, we want to provide you a guide to the solutions – the health and healing strategies that really work for yourself and your loved ones!
