

The Wright Stuff

A Word from Bob Wright

I can say, without reservation, that we have covered the following subject many times over the past eight or so years. Yet, the need to emphasize the importance of following a strict protocol of “truth – yet denial” looms heavily in our hearts and minds. And, I know that you are wondering what that means.

AACI Sponsor Highlight: Life Insurance Buyers, Inc.

In the natural health, natural medicine, and the mislabeled “alternative medicine” world, the FDA and all of allopathic medicine will tell you that absolutely nothing that you say, do, or practice – whether it be treatments, therapies, protocols, or supplements – has been approved through clinical trials or by the FDA. Of course, no one in this field will take their products and do a $500 million clinical study to prove efficacy that the bureaucrats would find unacceptable anyway. And, without that, nothing is acceptable to them. And the FDA has stated (years ago, in no uncertain terms) that they would never allow clinical trials on natural supplements (double blind, placebo controlled, multi-stage). It’s a no-win situation.

So, the “truth – yet denial” phrase simply means that anything that is not clinically approved by the FDA can have absolutely no claims or even inferences attached to it. It’s a sticky wicket. There doesn’t seem to be any problem with the Cancer Care Alliance here in Seattle saying on T.V. that they cure cancer. Not provable and totally false, yet it seems to be O.K. for them – and any other allopathic organization. Keep in mind that 97% of all cancer patients that undergo chemotherapy are dead in five years. I guess that means that less than a 3% survival beyond five years means a cure. The real bottom line is this: we (and those in this field) can never say that anything cures cancer or any other disease. But, we already know this and practice that mantra. The human immune system is the only thing that heals – period. And that’s what we say – always.

Sure, we forward several different supplements. We know of treatments and therapies that are very efficacious for chronic disease. We have seen designed protocols – whether they be “anti-cancer” or anti anything else. But we never, ever say that any of these things cure cancer. Nor do we imply that. No, it’s the immune system stupid (sorry!). Here is exactly where it gets its stickiness and why we must say this over and over again and use the long disclaimers that we do. The powers-that-be want to catch us saying the wrong thing – or implying the wrong thing. They want to accuse us of playing doctor and offering medical advice. They want to trap us into giving diagnostic information to patients. And, they will do absolutely anything to accomplish this. Our websites will be picked apart. Every written word will be scrutinized. Our phone calls will be monitored (really!) and our emails captured – again, really.

Many who bucked the protectors of the giant medical cartel in our country are now located elsewhere, be that Mexico or other offshore sites. Or, if you can imagine, they are not locatable anywhere at all anymore. Yes, we know it happens.

We must understand that cancer is a trillion dollar a year business. The medical industry – with all its facets – is a multi-trillion dollar per year enterprise. There is simply too much at stake here to allow it to go sideways. So when I say they will do anything to protect it – you better believe it. No conspiracy theory here – the facts are there for all to see.

So, this is a “going on the official record” outing of our policy at the American Anti-Cancer Institute and International Wellness & Research Center. And it goes something like this:

Dear FDA, FTC, AMA, Big Pharma, et al. –

Please be advised that our organization (named above) and all of its employees, ambassadors (foreign and domestic), volunteers, etc., never say that anything – natural or chemical, product or supplement, therapy, treatment, or protocol – cures cancer or any other sickness or disease. We do not advise patients of what to do if they suffer from illness, we don't diagnose or treat them. We make no inferences, either, that any of these things mentioned above heal or cure chronic disease. Oh, and by the way, neither should you – or anyone involved in allopathic medicine.

The human immune system, driven largely by epigenetic factors (seldom by genetic factors), is the only healing mechanism that we know of and will promote. You have shown movement in that direction, as well, as you are beginning to hang your proverbial shingles on what is deemed to be “immunotherapy.” We watched in awe over this past year as modern medicine announced their brand new discovery – the human immune system. You said that if you can figure out how to stimulate it – it could be the answer to all sickness and disease. We collectively all slapped our foreheads in disbelief. After all, we have been doing this for millennia. Using plants, foods, and clean water to maintain homeostasis within the body, to ascertain the integrity of the epigenetic pathways – and clear them when they are compromised – to stimulate that God-given immune system to heal our bodies when the daily chemical and radiation doses we are subjected to through our air, water, food and other poisonous products have overwhelmed us – now that’s immunotherapy. And, it’s not new.

Instead, you manufacture new drugs and ply the human frame with these in an effort to generate patentable technology for immune stimulation – a system and product that the body regularly rejects. Sure, some may get better, but largely they do not. Simply because drugs are not the answer and never have been. No, by using the ingredients (natural and organic) that God gave us to keep the body well and heal it when it is not, the human race has been able to survive for thousands and thousands of years – with no drugs – except the natural ones derived from the real “Farma”. You see, God really does have this thing figured out. Then, man gets in the way – for the sake of power and money. No mystery there.

I write for an entire industry that you know is growing daily. More money was spent on organic food and natural supplements in the past year than ever before. Kind of scary for you – right? Yeah, I know. The kneejerk reaction is that “we got to get rid of this guy.” Well, there are tens of thousands right behind me waiting to fill my shoes. It's time to go into acceptance mode. It's time to work together – in the areas that we can. No one will deny that we need good doctors and good drugs where it is necessary. We have some of the best trauma surgeons in the world. We have other skilled surgeons that do needed surgeries on children that are absolutely essential. We have some of the world's best diagnostics – although some fail to match up at times with simple muscle testing and procedures like thermography.

Enough said. You are officially on notice that we do not violate the medical laws of this land – although many are onerous and should be outlawed themselves. When did we lose the right to utilize anything we want to heal ourselves – and have it covered by insurance? When were we disinherited of the obligation to choose for our children the protocol that best serves them when they are sick? What ever happened to the oatmeal pack on the chest, iodine on the cut, simple silver for the killing of virtually all pathogens, chicken soup for the cold and flu (and for the soul)? And, while I'm at it, where have all the flowers gone? The song says that they've gone to graveyards, everyone. I can tell you that they are headed the way of the bees – poisoned by unnatural chemicals.

At the American Anti-Cancer Institute and International Wellness & Research Center, we will continue to be driven by truth – not by dogma or what is popular at the moment. We will always attempt to expose those who do otherwise; threatening the sick with death if they don't capitulate to toxic treatment and parents with jail and the loss of their children if they don't toe the conventional treatment line.

In a land where hope seems to be fading and fleeting, we will give it to people in spades. I'm not sure if "hope floats." I am sure, however, that often it will get people through some of the toughest times of their lives – when nothing else will.

Dr. Betty Martini sits on the Advisory Board for the American Anti-Cancer Institute and International Wellness & Research Center. Dr. Betty is a world-leader in the fight against aspartame, which we commonly call “NutraSweet,” and other artificial sweeteners. She has spent years and traveled the world to get the word out about what this “excito-neurotoxin” does to the human body. And, as I often say, if you want brain cancer, drink diet soda. One can almost guarantee you that you will get it if something else doesn’t kill you first. Listen to Dr. Martini below and click on the links to see the real facts.

Mission Possible World Health International

Some years ago we walked with the people at The Walk for the Cure and gave a speech at the capital, presenting information that aspartame triggers breast cancer. Now, a study published by Dr. Soffritti of the Ramazzini Institute, shows just that; you can read more about the study here. During the Walk for the Cure, their people tried to stop us from presenting our material and told us to go away. My friend Michelle said, "Do you want to cure cancer or are you just here for the money?" The lady said, "We're just here for the money, now go." Of course, we stayed. The cure for cancer is in the book, "The Only Answer to Cancer" by Dr. Leonard Coldwell available here. I wrote a chapter on artificial sweeteners and gave the recipe that cured my breast cancer. The FDA sent the Forestry Department to an herbalist's property we use then sprayed all the areas to kill the herbs. One man from the Forestry apologized to Earl and said: "The FDA made us do it - they don't want cancer cured." Also you should read "Killing Cancer, Not People" by Robert Wright. Dr. Russell Blaylock also has a book on cancer. ♦

PIOH Treatments

Hi Bob,

I just want to give you a huge thank you!! We contacted Dirk Yow and just spent the last 2 weeks getting PIOH treatments. We absolutely know this was the place we needed to be. He is amazing ...so knowledgeable, educating and has great professionalism while giving it the sense of humor we all need when dealing with such "technical" systems!!!!

He makes something so "crappy" very interesting (and almost kind of fun to see what's coming out of you).

He also got us in right away. We have no doubt that a great healing was reached for both of us. We intend to return for more as well as tell others about this ceremony.

Thanks so much for all you do for all of us.

Susan Doop

Adenocarcinoma

Dear Bob,

I am happy to inform you that Ms. Chan's cancer index (CEA) has dropped from 10.24 to 7.44 after following your suggestions. She has been drinking 3000cc pH11.5 Kangen water and doing coffee enemas daily for only ten days. She has not even started the Reliv supplements, as the order of Reliv Now and Lunarich have not yet arrived.

Thank you very much for your good advice and blessings.

Hormone Imbalance Prevented Pregnancy for 7 Years:

A Personal Story from AACI Consultant, Joneville M. Tinun

My wife has had hormone imbalance issues since the age of 12. Her monthly menstruation would only come about 2 to 3 times in a year. When it did come, she would bleed up to a month and sometimes more. At one time, it was so serious that I had to donate blood to her. After we got married in 2008, we tried to conceive a child but failed. Over the years, we went to several doctors in Kota Kinabalu, Malaysia and Singapore to get help. She was put on series of hormone pills to help regulate her menses. However, these resulted in many unpleasant side effects. We also tried traditional massage therapies but none of these helped us to conceive.

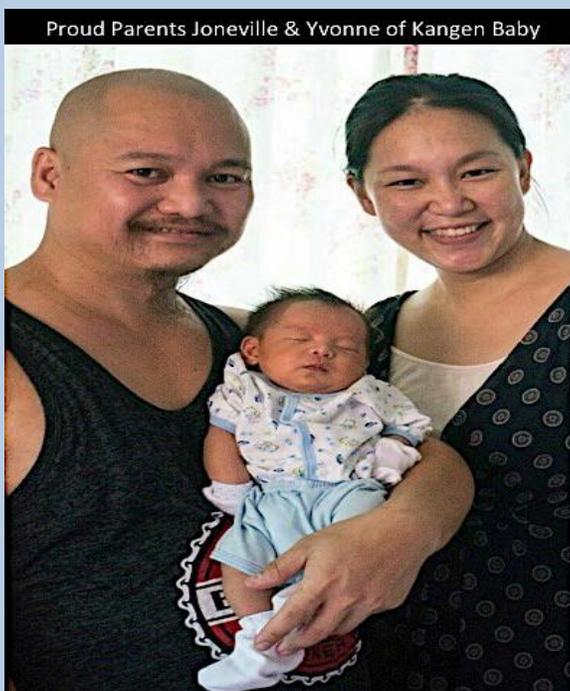

We installed our Enagic SD501 in September 2014 without thinking that the water would help. Being a skeptic, we just drank the water out of convenience but we did follow the recommended water intake protocol.

The following months, my wife's cycle started to regulate and after drinking the water for 6 months, we were able to conceive a baby in March of 2015. Samuel was born on the 21st of December; he was a very healthy baby boy weighing 6 lbs. 11 oz.

This is why my wife and I are so passionate about Enagic Kangen Water. In March of 2015, the same month of Samuel's conception, I resigned from my full time job of over 14 years as a Petroleum Engineer, established an Authorized Enagic Kangen Center in Kota Kinabalu, Malaysia and became a full-time Enagic Distributor. We hope that more people will be able to experience great health benefits from drinking Kangen Water. I am also an AACI Consultant and am promoting the great book "Killing Cancer - Not People" by author Bob Wright of the AACI.

Blessings to all,
Joneville & Yvonne

How the FDA Took Control from iHealthTube

Ever wonder how the FDA took control of your unhealthiness and sickness (notice I didn't say health and wellness)? At the link above, your discovery about real truth in this industry will begin with a short video featuring Health Freedom attorney, Jonathan Emord. You will find it very interesting – at a minimum. The only caveat is that the FDA really doesn't have control – the pharmaceutical companies do! ♦

Alternative Medicine?

The excerpt below is from our friend, Tim Bolen, Consumer Advocate (famous at that), and appears in Chapter 11 of “Killing Cancer – Not People.” You will like this!

“Alternative medicine is defined as any protocol, action or therapy that isn’t drugs, radiation, or surgery oriented.

“Wrongfully named? Yes. So-called ‘alternative medicine’ is actually the health choice of planet earth. It is a combination of every good health idea invented by mankind, in every country and culture on this planet. There is nothing ‘alternative’ about it. Labeling planet earth’s health choice as ‘alternative’ is, and was, a propaganda device.

“North Americans have overwhelmingly (by their purchases) made ‘alternative medicine the health choice of the people – for the best reasons: it works better than allopathic, it removes the cause rather than treating the symptoms, it is cost-effective, it makes people feel better and think clearer, and it doesn’t have all those horrible effects, and side effects, of invasive surgery or prescription drugs.

“More than half of the U.S. health dollar in 1999 was spent on ‘alternative medicine’ and it was all out-of-pocket. Conventional medicine is being paid for, and surviving, only because insurance and Medicare pay for it – the public won’t spend an out-of-pocket nickel on it.”

THANKS, TIM! We couldn’t have said it better. ♦

A Common Question

The following question came from one of our readers. As the title suggests, it is a very common one. Please see the letter below, followed by our response.

From Thomas:

Hello to everyone involved,

My wife and I were wondering, how is it that some people who had cancer 10 to 20 years prior, never have a reoccurrence of their cancer? We have a friend who had cancer in his leg when he was a teenager. He had his leg amputated, but had no chemo or radiation. He is now in his late forties and remains cancer free. As we now know, cancer stem cells can remain in your system. Any insight into this would be of great help. Hoping to hear from you soon.

AACI/IWARC response:

Hi, Thomas:

The answer to your question is not always clear. We do know that when cancer is not spreading rapidly and seems to be isolated in one place, that surgery can often eliminate the problem. We also know that many patients that don't really have cancer – only a pre-cancerous condition – and are subsequently diagnosed with cancer and undergo treatment, recover and are said to have beaten the cancer – that wasn't cancer at all. This happens more often than you would think. The human body and its immune system are truly remarkable. We have seen people undergo rounds of chemo and radiation and survive. Most of these people do not have rapidly spreading cancer and many change their lifestyles to incorporate good foods, water, supplements and detoxification which keeps or puts the cancer at bay – for short or long terms. But, are they cured? Maybe, maybe not.

We do know that the human immune system is the only thing that heals cancer. Both chemo and radiation cause and spread cancer. Proven. Neither can kill cancer stem cells. Proven. And, for the thinking man, it makes no sense to treat a disease that is largely caused by different forms of chemicals and radiation – with chemicals and radiation. No, the human body will heal itself if given the right ingredients. That includes the right foods (organic, largely vegan), the right water (ionized, alkaline), the right supplementation, detoxification (whole body), and exercise – when able. These work – and we see it time after time.

We do see now, however, that the treatments (chemo, radiation, drugs) appear to be killing the patients faster than the cancer. Studies show that people who do absolutely nothing with their cancer live as long or longer and have a better quality of life. I hope this helps.

Sincerely,

Bob Wright

Chemotherapy's Incredibly Low Success Rate

from iHealthTube

The video above fits perfectly with the previous question about why some survive the chemo onslaught – but most do not. See the AACI/IWARC’s Advisory Board Member, Dr. Veronique Desaulniers (Dr. “V”), sum up the reasons why chemo and radiation have such a miserable track record with cancer patients. Please note that the Australian Study she cites was mentioned three (3) times in my book and I actually have spoken with the author of that study to verify its veracity (of course, he confirmed!). Thank you to all our friends and Scott Peterson at iHealthTube for this video. ♦
